

Lecture 7

conference network concepts

NETWORKING TIPS

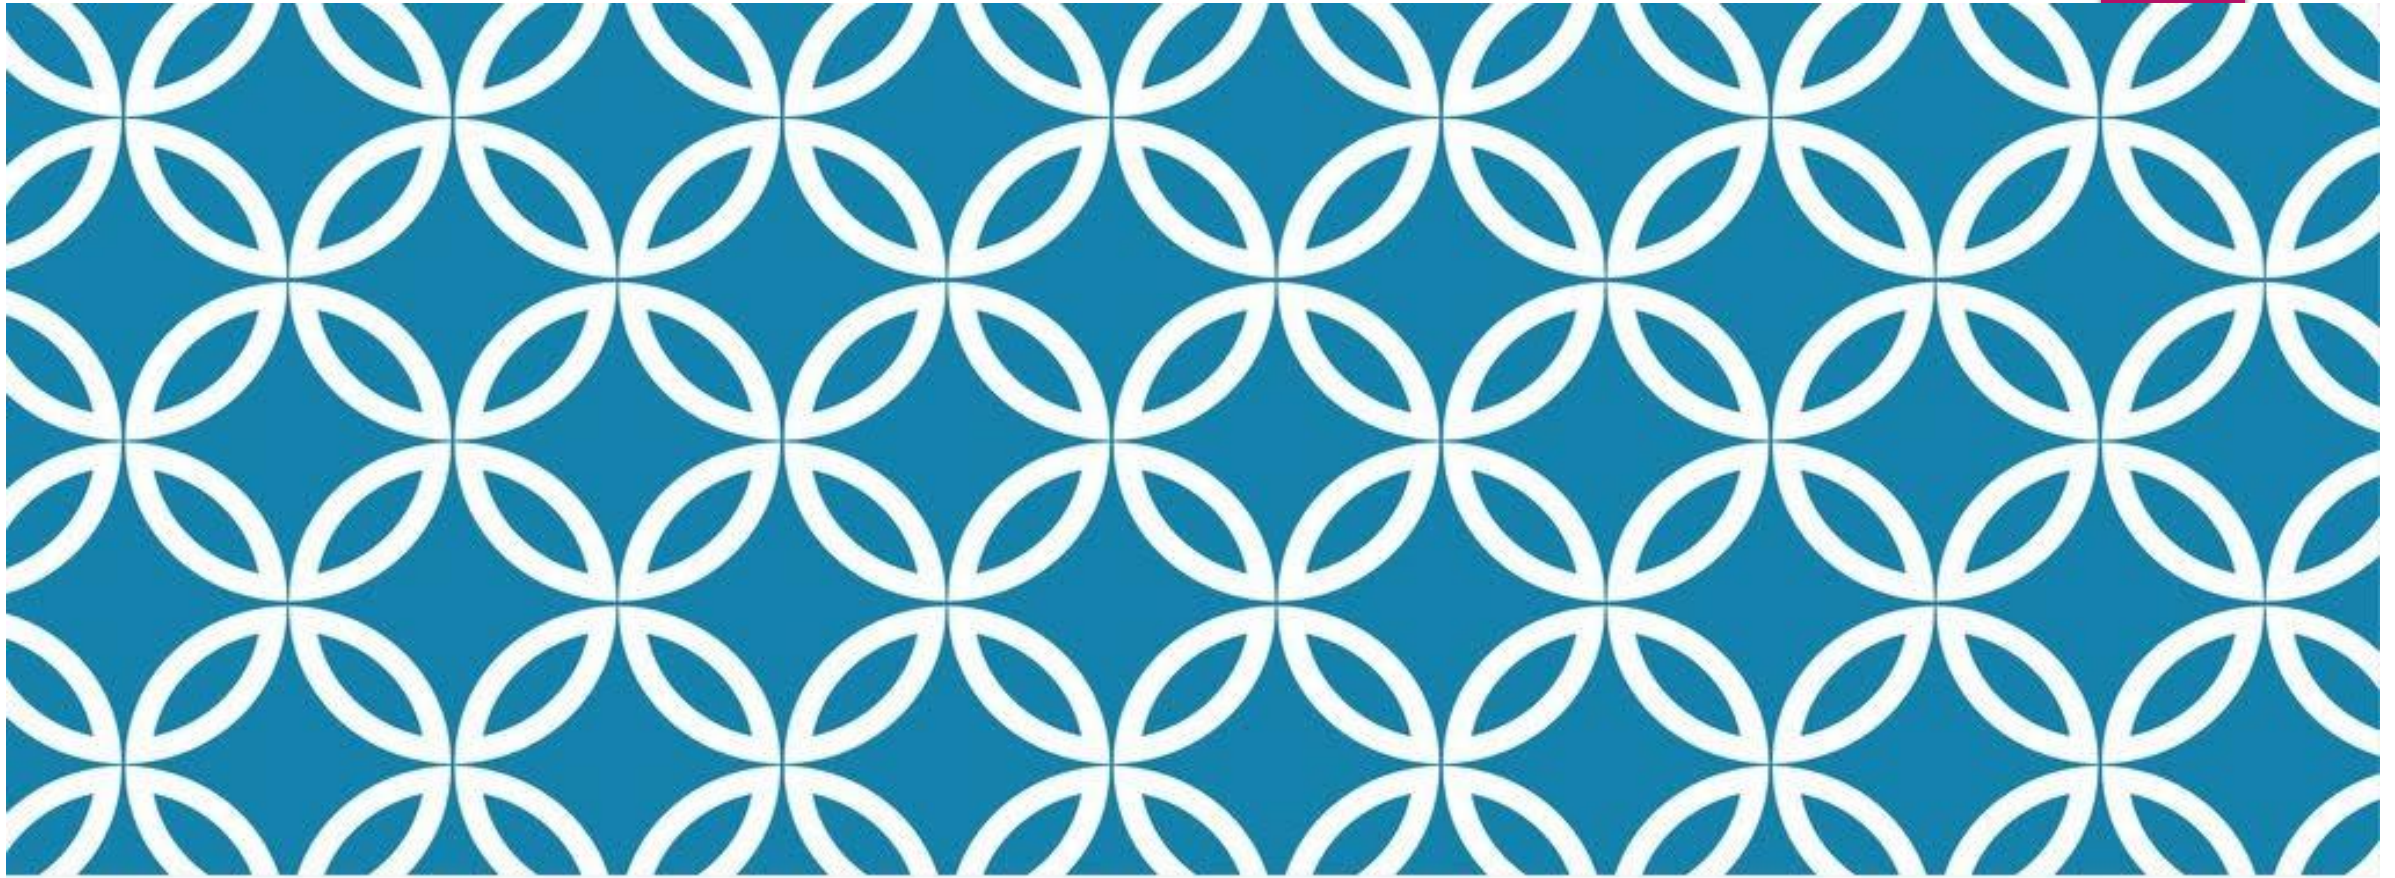

- ☐ Eye contact
- ☐ Firm handshake (bring plenty of hand sanitizer!)
- ☐ Have a question ready to ask: Try to get them talking!
- ☐ Trade business cards (“Do you mind if I give you my business card?”)

Be mindful of emotional labor!

CONFERENCE ESSENTIALS

- ✓ Business Cards!
- ✓ Networking plan:
 - Look over the conference program to mark presentations you will attend
 - See who will be attending and email to set up meetings
- ✓ Appropriate Attire
- ✓ Pen and Pad

CONFERENCE NETWORKING

Brionca D. Taylor
Doctoral Candidate
Department of Sociology
University of North Carolina – Chapel Hill

ELEVATOR PITCH ESSENTIALS

❖ Who Are You?

- Name and affiliation (possibly work in your advisor's name if comfortable)

❖ The Hook

- Present the major topic of your research
- Provide background information

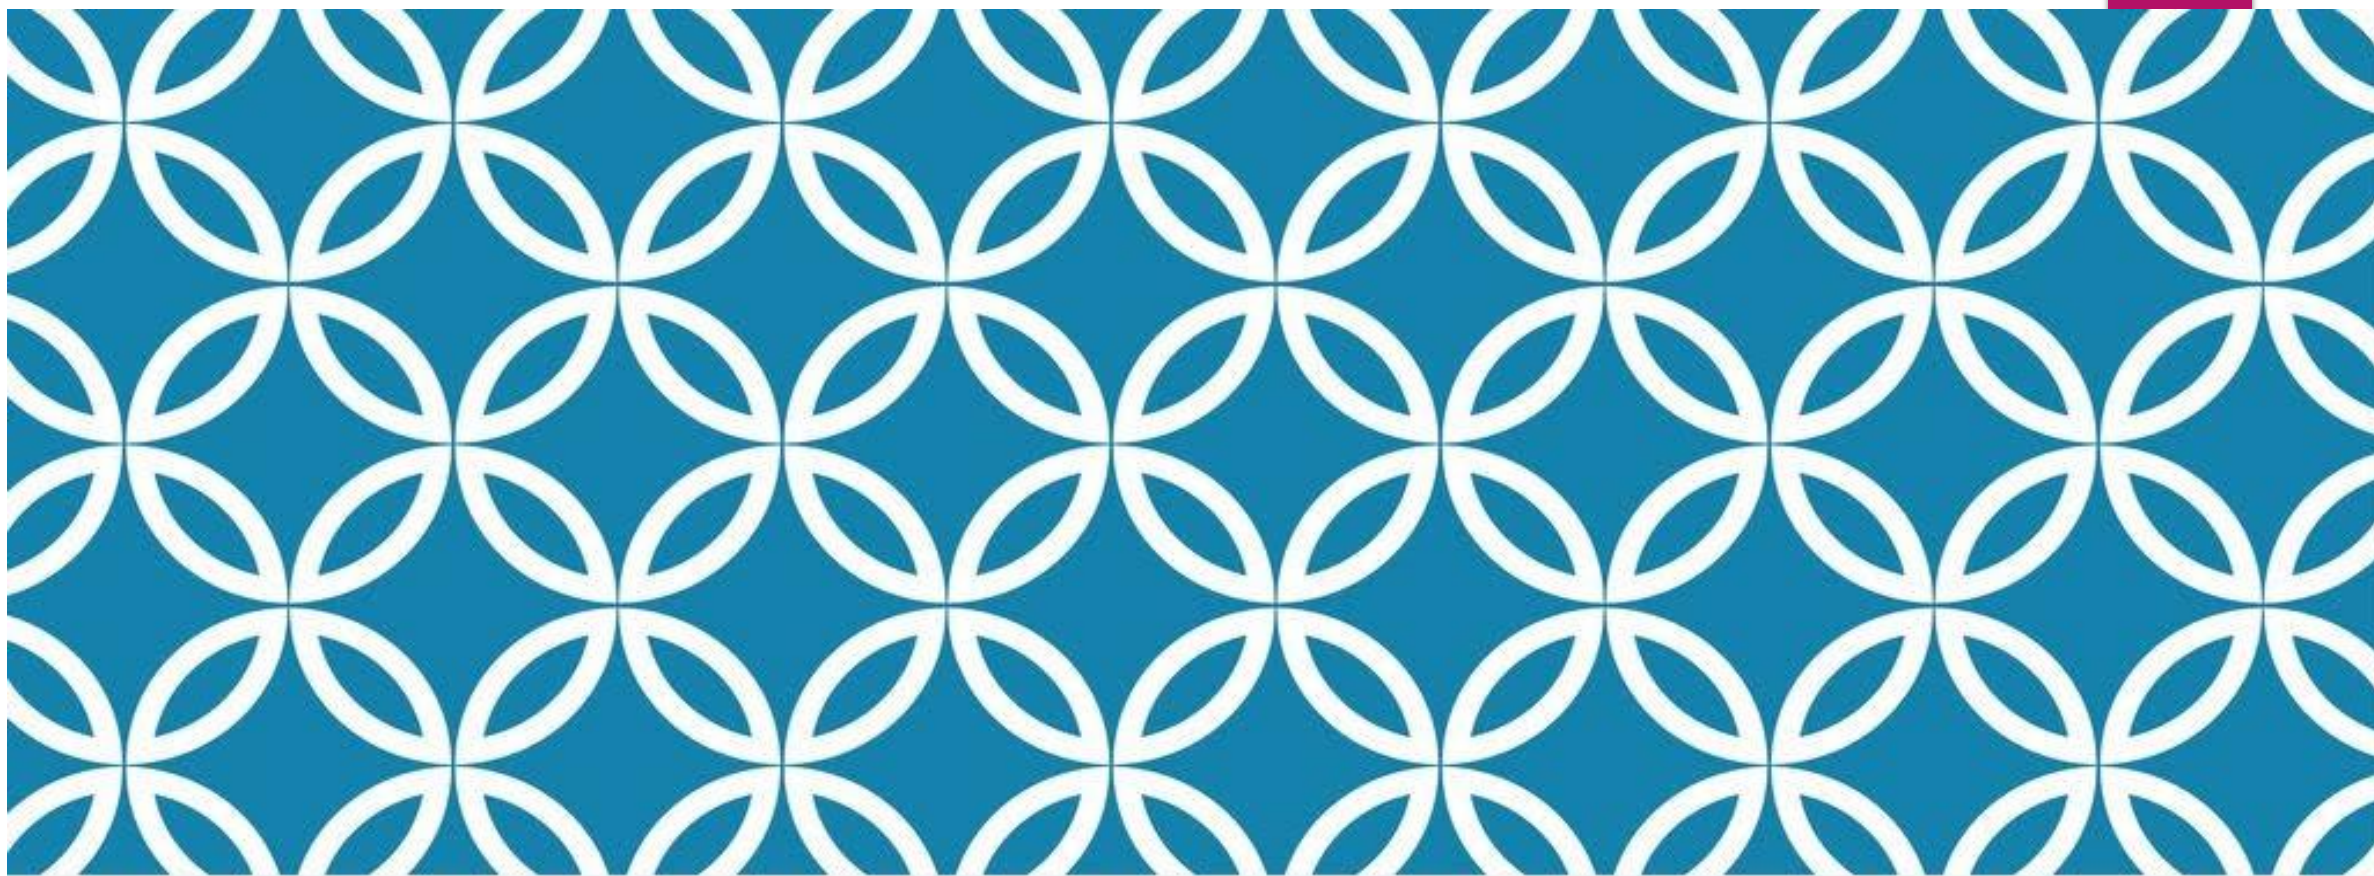

❖ The Solution

- How does your work contribute to addressing this topic?

❖ Why it Matters

- Why should anyone care?
- Broader impacts!

FINDING THE RIGHT PITCH

Different types of conferences means different types of audiences and possibly different types of pitches. How does your pitch change?

LET'S PRACTICE!

GROUP REFLECTION

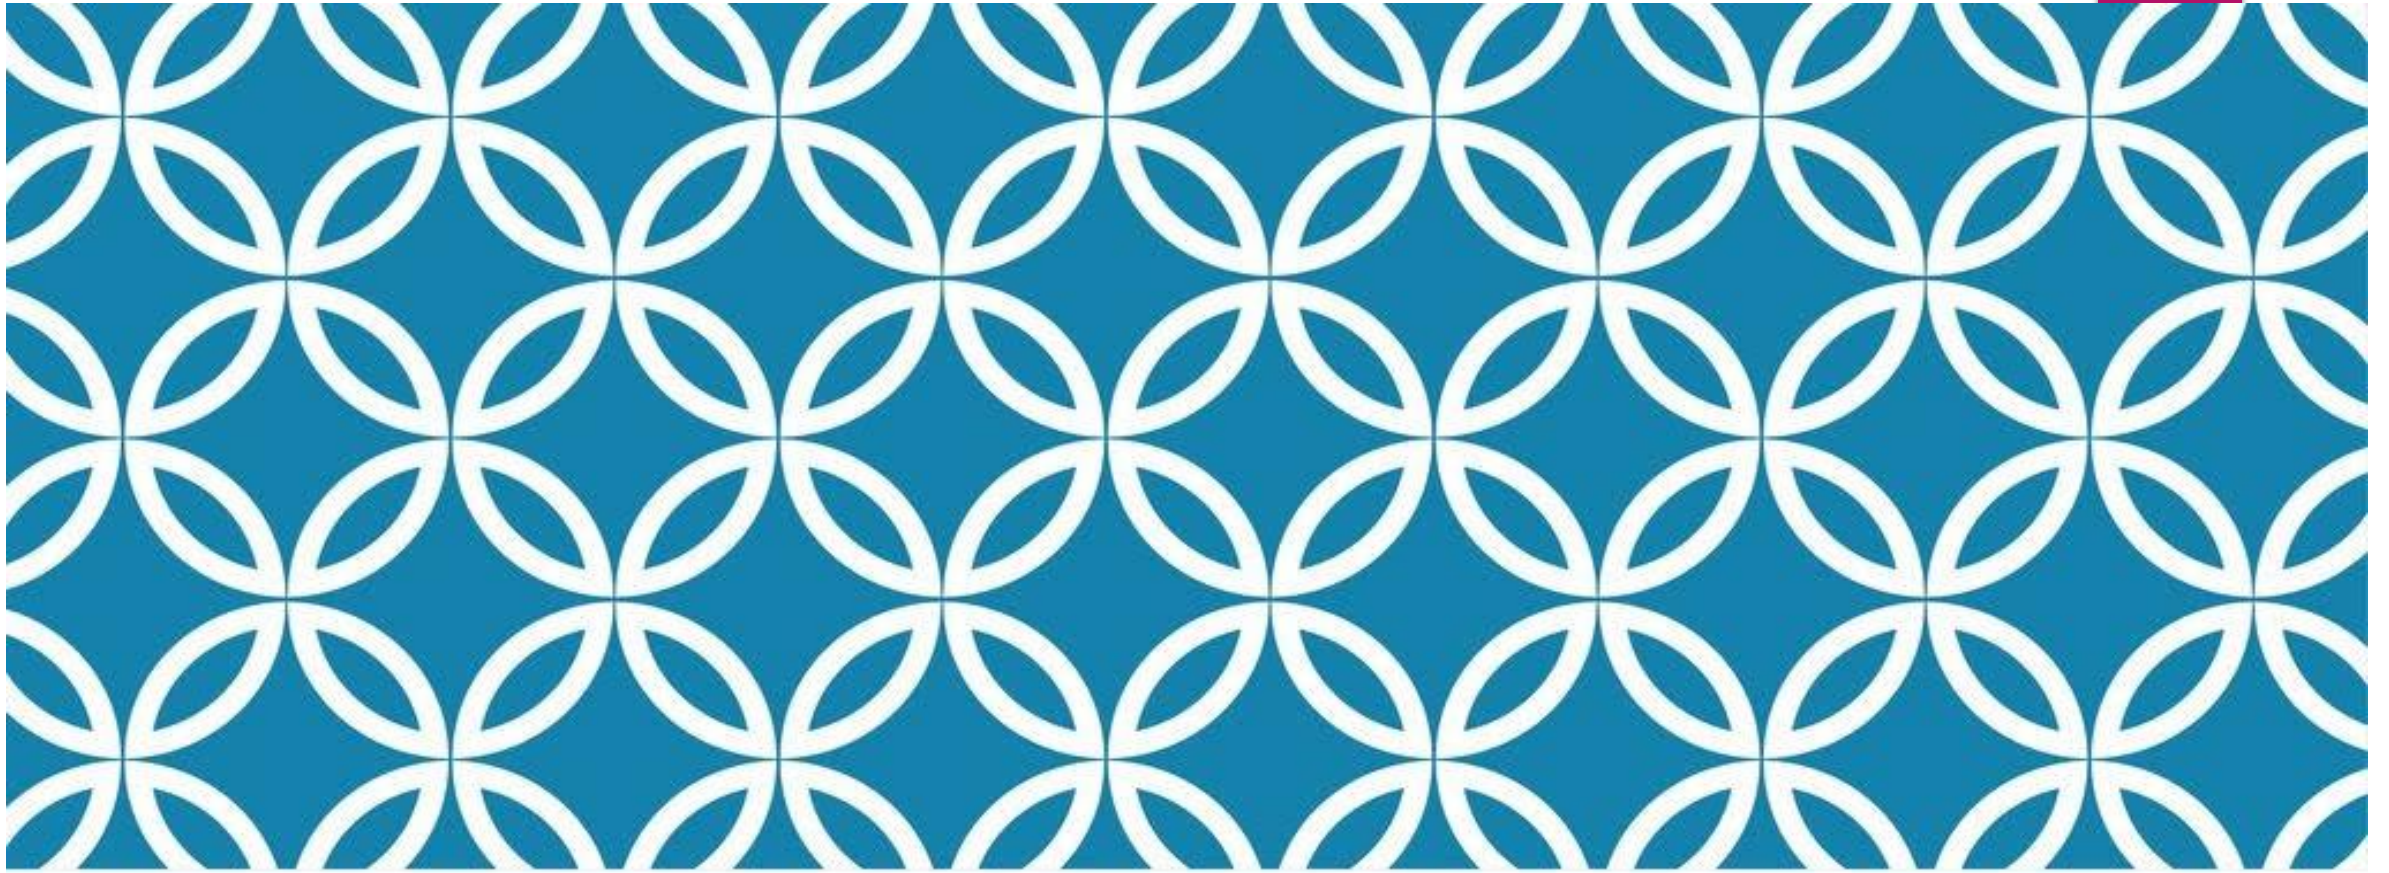

Good Moments?

Things to work on?

Tips to share?

HOW TO FOLLOW UP:

- ❖ Write down keywords on the business cards you receive (where you met them, topic of interest to follow up on, one thing you talked about, etc.)
- ❖ Send a follow up email – Ask a question to get a response!
- ❖ Follow them on social media – Try interacting with their posts

PRACTICE YOUR PITCH

In groups of twos, we will practice our elevator pitches. In 45 seconds (wait for the timer!), tell your partner who you are, what you research, and why it matters.

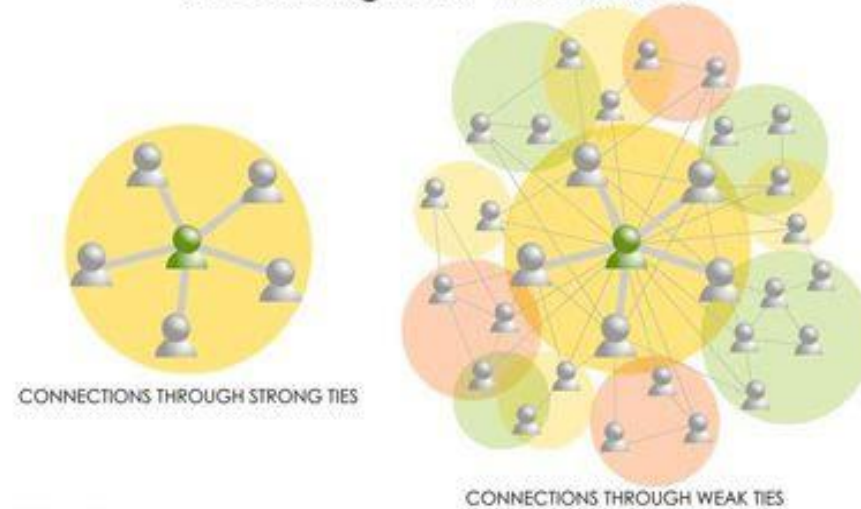

TYPES OF CONFERENCES

- ☐ Major conference in your field (e.g. ASA, APA, AHA, etc.)
- ☐ Regional conferences in your field
- ☐ Interdisciplinary conferences (or conferences outside of your major field)
- ☐ Affinity conferences (e.g. Women of Color in Academia conference)
- ☐ Community-focused conferences

WHY ARE CONFERENCES IMPORTANT?

- ❖ JOB!
- ❖ Find possible research collabs.
- ❖ Build within-field network: Strength of loose ties!
- ❖ Find out more about your field
- ❖ Build academic confidence!

The Strength of Weak Ties

© 2012 CHESS MEDIA GROUP

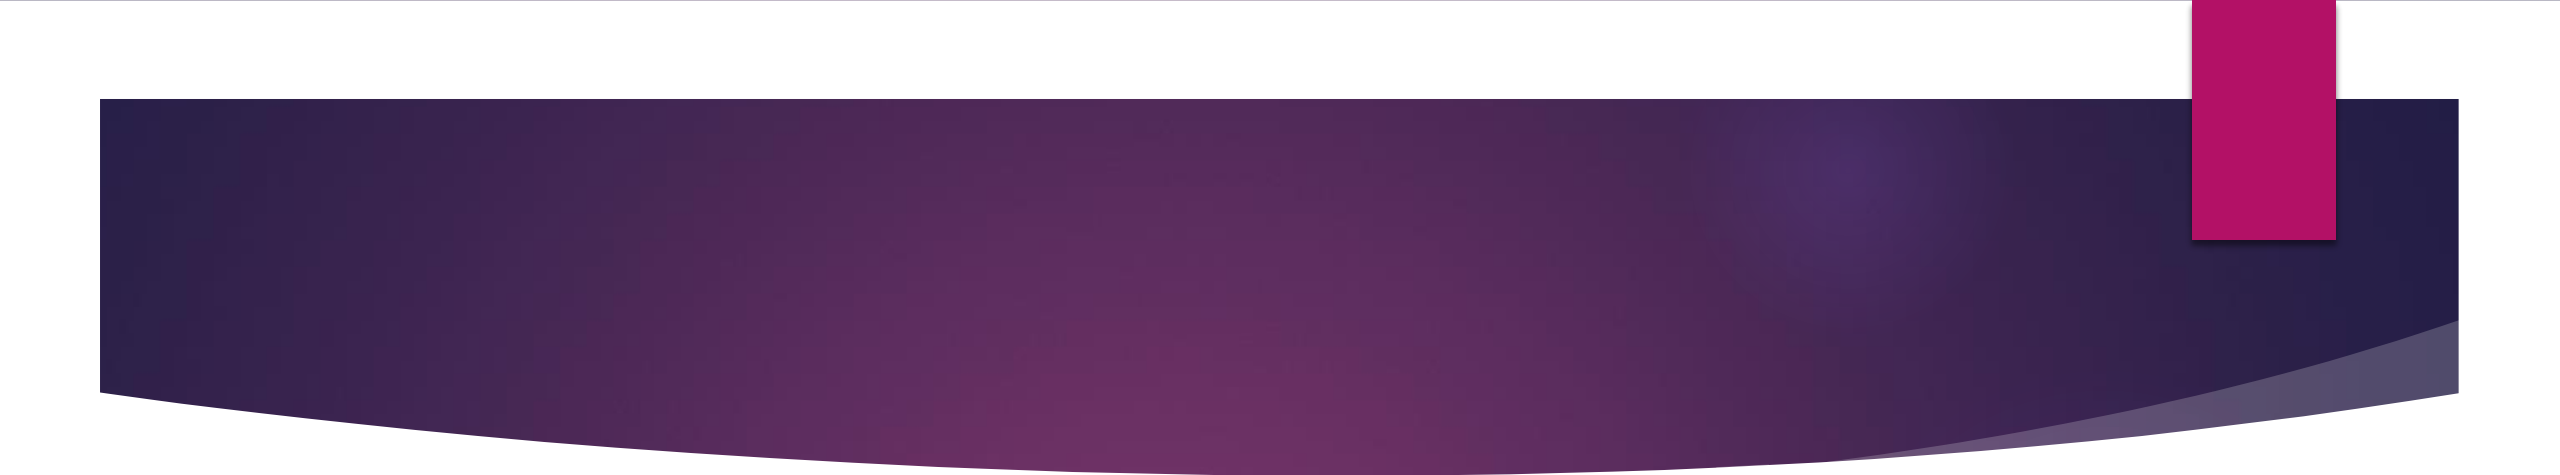

WRITING REFLECTION

What did you like about your speech?

What do you think you can work on?

How did you feel before/after/during your speech? Why?

Questions ?